

Committee Of Thirteen

"Searching For Answers"

Visit "Searching For Answers" on MotoLyrics.com

You're searching for answers
To questions you already know
Are you guided?
Are you guarding?
You're searching for answers
Feeling the effects of time
Still you have no sense of your worth
Convinced you are stuck between
Who you are and who you could be
Professing that you don't believe in anything
Then claiming to believe in yourself
What do you mean?
Remaining silent only words being scribbled to the page
Your whole existence has been put into question
Time is just a word, a concept
It no longer means anything
Believing your thoughts are all you have
But what do you mean?
You must be blind not to see this
Or you're refusing it exists
What you seek is possessed on the inside
When you surrender you will find
Your successes and failures mean nothing
You must remove yourself from wanting
Stop allowing yourself to be brought down
Stop allowing your soul to be weighed down
Your aging flesh has not had time to realize
As you sit contemplating
Thoughts weighed heavy on your mind
You begin suffocating, chest caving, hard to breathe
All thoughts of your purpose have bled away,
Impossible to see

Visit Committee Of Thirteen page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.