"She"

There she is, time forgot her
There she is alone
There she stays, time destroyed her
There she waits alone
The gift she gave is here
But she is as she chose alone
Giving little and taking even more,
She pushed away
There she is, time still visits
There she is alone
There she stays, he's destroyed her
Now the skin hangs from the bone
Time has never been forgiving
There's much doubt it will start soon
So clutch that drink and keep sinking
Watch the whole world through a glaze
