Woke up this morning half alive again
Scrape my change and take a ride to another day
I'll never leave here, you know I'll never stay
Score at face a five for making up my mind

Sun is gone today
We will never change
Sun is gone today
We will never change

Woke up this morning half alive again
I take a break from being lame and drift away
I dream about the girl, another time, another place
I turn away and lie to everyone who even tried

Sun is gone today
We will never change
Sun is gone today
We will never change

Why
Why

I accidently lost my mind
Screaming at the walls inside
And she was gone and I was so blind
No light was out just now

Woke up this morning half alive again
Scrape my change and take a ride to another day
I'll never leave here, you know I'll never stay
Score that face of fire for waking up my mind

Sun is gone today
Sun is gone today
Sun is gone today
Sun is gone today

Sun is gone today
Sun is gone today
Sun is gone today
Yeah
