I don't want the world to end tonight
I just want to know what it will be like
Atomic bombs, disease, mass suicide
Who will be the heroes, who will cover their eyes

All this time spent waiting for the end
But it never comes, no it never comes
No it never comes, no it never comes
But we're already gone
We're already gone

Gathering supplies to be prepared
It won't matter when you can't defend your share
If you don't have a gun you're good as dead
The only currency left that can save your head

All this time spent waiting for the end
But it never comes, no it never comes
And when it does we'll never realize
We're already gone, we're already gone
We're already gone, we're already gone
We're already gone, we're already gone

Go get your guns
Protect the ones
That you love
Board up the house
To keep them out
They scream and shout
Tell everyone to keep their cool
We can make it out alive

Go get your guns
Protect the ones
That you love
Board up the house
To keep them out
They scream and shout
Tell everyone to keep their cool
We can make it out alive

All this time spent waiting for the end
But it never comes, no it never comes
