

The Last Felony

"Too Many Humans"

Visit "Too Many Humans" on MotoLyrics.com

Kill the children first! We won't see a difference for a few years, but we'll eventually be able to have a seat in the subway. It's the cause of each and every problem in this world; over population. Infestation. Call it what you will, in the end it all means the same thing; too many fucking humans. Never again will I have to feel a stranger's skin in contact with mine or have their human stench lingering on my clothes. Drowning in their blood is a small price to pay to avoid having to touch their flesh. Prove your worth and we'll let you live. Uselessness will no longer be rewarded by welfare checks, but rather with a blast in the fucking head. And just like in China, we'll make your family pay for the bullet as well as the salary of the poor bastard who's paid to drag away your lifeless body. Sometimes I think communism had the right idea, it was just implemented by underachievers. It's the basis of our society, every man was created equal: Worthless

Visit The Last Felony page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.