You come around here again
You will not have to fear death
For I will cut you up into hundreds pieces and eat you myself
I will then sow every opening on my body shut
Burn myself alive
Happy knowing the pain is inside
My life became gray just like the world
Because of worries like you (Like you)

I am burning
Our lives are ending
Destroying my body
To rid this place of all your sin
Kind sunshine on my face I will surely feel again
The only warmth you'll feel will be my skin melting from the outside in
Now that this is over all I have to say
You do not deserve any last words
Say hello to darkness

I am burning
Our lives are ending
Destroying my body
To rid this place of all your sin
