Tell ya leaders that I need some proof
Way beyond the common signs
I'm tryna seek the truth
Nobody seems to understand the shit that we could do
As a group you're barely focused on a better you
We've all given up
Just go look at them planes in the sky
And you'll see the death of us
Chemicals is frying our mind till it's nothing left of em
Like don't we stress enough?
No wonder we've been messing up
No wonder why we can't focus
Sippin out the devil's cup and liking it
No wonder we've been diving in
This motherfucking crisis
Feeling we're the only 5 percent that's holding all the fucking weight
Another day inside this bitch I swear that I'ma fucking break
So should I try again?
Would you listen if I told you we could fight and win?
We asking why try instead of why ammend
And we don't ever try to look and that's why they ain't hiding shit

Light it on December 31st
Then I'll hold it in till next year
Just so if the world ends I could die blown
I'm saying fuck that shit anyway
I wasn't born here anyway
We are not the same, same, same, same
I wasn't supposed to live anyway
Them racist motherfuckers wanted me dead
We are not the same, same, same, same.
