

Sleater Kinney

"Memorize Your Lines"

Visit "Memorize Your Lines" on MotoLyrics.com

I've learned how to wait. I know not to beg
I know I shouldn't ask why I wake up feeling dead
(Say forever, that's a dirty word
Will you stay here, that's a dirty girl)

Performance of your life, performance of my life
Performance of your life
(Act two, scene four line three
I want this room, just for me, just for me)
You said you'd never be mine
You swore it to me until the end of time
You said that love's never kind
I memorize these lines, practice them every night

We can talk it out, tell each other lies
We can just pretend today isn't goodbye
(It will be soon, now heard that before
You better polish your speech
Before you hit the floor)

Performance of your life, performance of my life
Performance of your life
(Act two, scene four line three
I want this room, just for me, just for me)
You said you'd never be mine
You swore it to me until the end of time
You said that love's never kind
I memorize these lines, practice them every night

Wont you tell me what are we fighting for?
Do you want me here do you know for sure?
(You said you'd never be mine
You swore it to me until the end of time)

You know the coldest face is the worst to me
And I won't calm down till I get to you
You know that I wish I could undo this role
Let's go back to what, what we came here for

Visit Sleater Kinney page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

