Down on me so cold tonight
Stuck out on this lonesome highway
Seems to be no end in sight
Just as the darkness is falling
I can hear your sweet voice calling to me
Saying, "Don't worry baby, we're gonna be all right"
And I've got
One more river to cross
One more mountain to climb
One more day to survive
One more river to cross
One more dream to hold onto
To keep me alive
I've got one more river to cross
When you put your heart on the line
Try to make your dream come true
It never comes easy, always takes time
You just keep on going - what else can you do
Just as the darkness is falling
I can hear your sweet voice calling
One more river to cross
One more mountain to climb
One more day to survive
One more river to cross
One more dream to hold onto
To keep us alive
I've got just one more river to cross
It's always one more river to cross
Just as the darkness is falling
I hear your sweet voice calling
We're gonna be all right
