I called you, she answered.
got strangled on the way.
she gave you the phone, said it was for you.
didn't know, didn't know, didn't know, didn't know you got yourself a new friend.
if you need a friend
you can call me again
I won't call you cause of your new friend it's harder than I thought being on my own remember you said you needed me there it's too late, it's too late, too late, too late and you got yourself a new friend
if you need a friend
you can call me again
