"I Love You"

Hey let's make it real
To immortalize how we feel
The wound "life" to forever heal
And noone's left our love to steal

You, stranger, non greek and the wild
I gave you all my time

I remember a time, as time ran through
My fingers like sand
And sometimes the earth is a disc for sure
But I was only thinking of you

I thought I climbed higher than I've ever been
But now I fall from heights I've never seen
Everything is wrong

You say we don't belong
