Did something wrong last night...

Did something wrong last night, didn't I?
See the letdowns are flashing through your eyes again
While Stockholm's sleeping

Said something bad last night, didn't I?
Tried to put on my straight face but I failed again
Try to make it right again, tonight my friend

Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
I'm making trouble
Look down, look down on me
My eyes are fuzzy and I know
I'm making trouble

Did something wrong last night, didn't you?
You let me down when I was walking in those lonely shoes
While Stockholm's sleeping

Lost our minds last night, you and I
We made a promise but still we crossed the line again
Try to make it right again, tonight my friend

Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
I'm making trouble
Look down, look down on me
My eyes are fuzzy and I know
I'm making trouble

Lights of Stockholm made me fall
Down down down down down
Oh my this youth

Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
I'm making trouble

Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
I'm making trouble
Look down, look down on me
My eyes are fuzzy and I know
Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
Look down, look down on me
My head is spinning and I know
I'm making trouble
