The story of romance, came in
When you think someone
Will loving you hard
But it's not what you want, the case
That life is harder
Then it's blanket cover

In the mess of your room, you hide
From the dupe love
That you can't trust again
The memories of your past, keep playing
Yes in your mind
In your mind

Go and see it's the morning sign
Tell 'em you're the perfect kind
'Cause you don't have to feel much pain like this
Let the memories gone through the past

And you wake up too soon, in the night
That you know you can
Sleep well and tight
Wake till the morning come, still trying to sleep again
But things that bad
Always come to your head

Go and see it's the morning sign
Tell 'em you're the perfect kind
'Cause you don't have to feel much pain like this
Let the memories gone through the past

Too much agony
Too much misery
Too much pain on me
Too much pain on me

Go and see it's the morning sign
Tell 'em you're the perfect kind
'Cause you don't have to feel much pain like this
Let the memories gone through the past

Go and see it's the morning sign
Wake up you, the perfect kind
'Cause too much things that's better than this
Let the dreams come searching for you
