"Start"

I hear, you're waving me off

I hear, you're moving on past

I hear, you're sending me on

At last

I hear, your time has come

I hope your time will last

And on and on and on and on

At last, at last

Though I confront you

I want you better start

This time I won't let it be

One thin time, won't let it start

How much longer will it start?

There it is again

I hear your time has come

I hope you timed it last

And on and on and on and on

At last, at last
