When the pain becomes unreal
And rage is all you feel
No place for you to hide
You only live at night
How does it feel to be always on the run?
Shadowcast

Tell me love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away
Ain't no love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away.

When despair starts to grow
And the smell of blood is all you know
No place, stripped from your pride
Alone, just cast aside
How does it feel to be always on the run?
Shadowcast

Tell me love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away
Ain't no love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away.
No place for you to hide
You only live at night
Ain't no love can take this away
And make it better, matter.

Cover me
Running free
Count your waking hours
Cuz tomorrow may never come.

How does it feel to be always on the run?
Shadowcast

Tell me love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away
Ain't no love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away.
No place for you to hide

You only live at night
Ain't no love can take this away
And make it better, matter, make it go away.
There ain't no love that can take this away and make it
Better, matter, better.
