Eyes up. Act like a man.
The time has come to choose a side.
Dust falls from the child's hand,
You lie with lepers and your legacy dies.

The day has come to stand your ground

Face it, your running from the answers
Your faking your life.
Taking on lies
That your mask could never ever hide.
Face it, your running from the answers

I am the ocean.
I am your greed.
I am your carnal sins infecting everything that the eye can see.

There may be a chance that I'm a changed man,
But it's a point blank fact that I don't give a damn.

Deep down I know that you wonder just how long that you'll ferment here.
She'd another face so that no one knows you.
She'd another face so that no one knows you.
Deep down you know you're a slave to all the pride that you hold so dear.
She'd another face so that no one knows you.
She'd another face so that no one knows you.

Stop wasting time.
Stop wasting time.
Stop wasting time.
You've got to stop
Wasting time on yourself.

It's time that we overcome ourselves!
It's time that we overcome ourselves and all the things that hold us down!

Crucify the stems that keep you rooted to the ground.
