I hear the voice I hear the voice
I hear the voice of God telling me telling me
telling me that I've got to believe

beginning at the end
this time I fell in the middle of a perfect circle (manifestation)
and it was a desperate part of God and it was spinning inside of me out of control without remorse and God's eyes closed and again it became what it was before

I hear the voice I hear the voice

manifestation manifestation

and again it all became
closing like a flowers petals to a cold and honest night
