a lonely girl sits down by the road
her pack it light with just two days load
she sees the headlights a ride with no name in cold blood he's waiting to give her his shame
(and he said)

ARE YOU...SO BLUE...LIKE ME...SADLY
ARE YOU...SO BLUE...LIKE ME...SADLY

he parked the car on a deserted back road
felt under his seat for the knife he had stowed
"not this again," he quietly wept
grabbing her throat as she peacefully slept
(and he said)

ARE YOU...SO BLUE...LIKE ME...SADLY
ARE YOU...SO BLUE...LIKE ME...SADLY

the body was found by a camper that spring
a man in his 40's strangled with a drawstring
a faceless John Doe with no family ties
the last thing he saw was a lonely girls eyes
(and she said)

ARE YOU...SO BLUE...LIKE ME...SADLY
