We will never see the light of day
This is the end of our human race
Looks are deceiving as he's dressed in white
Don't take his hand you will burn tonight

Lead me, lead me
To a sanctuary
Where we can be free we can be free
And no one could deceive
The trust, the trust
That was given as a promise to
Hand my life over to you

You won't be the one to judge me

Here we go through the gates of hell
Falling deeper, deep into this spell

Who will be our savior?

False hopes have led us to
False lies that take us to
The end of our existence
Why bother to save me when I'm already dead?
Too late, you're too late
I cannot be brought back
If only you could

Lead me, lead me
To a sanctuary
Where we can be free we can be free
And no one could deceive
The trust, the trust
That was given as a promise to
Hand my life over to you
