What if I was to say
The things I couldn't say
So take it all away
And make it all okay
Go on close your eyes
And kiss me one last time

You're changing stories
Like a clock arm changes place
On the hour every hour
You have a brand new face
I know we've heard it all before
You can only tell a story for so long
Before it gets too old

I said everything I had to say
But it's better if we part ways
I said everything I had to say
But it's better if we part ways

Silence fills the room as everyone enters
The bodies on the floor
Your perfect murder

What have I become?
A murderer, cold-hearted killer
And your pity heart
In arms reach of becoming a victim

I said everything I had to say
But it's better if we part ways
I said everything I had to say, to say

Back down!
I'm doing fine without you

I'm doing fine without you
Careless to say that I need you
I'm doing fine without you
Careless to say

I'm running in circles
It's time to move on
Let go of everything, your last kiss from me

Take back everything you said
Take back everything you said
Take back everything you fucking said.
