Only when you spoke did I realise
Someone broke into your life
How we hurt and never show it

Come into my world, hold me in your arms
There's a mystery to the touch
How it heals so when we're broken

I believe that all the fear you've had
Can gently fly away
We experience, we hope together
Lost in one embrace
We will love forever, this eternity
For in this love I'm alive, I'm alive

Children of the east, children of the west
Putting friendship to the test
How we hurt and never show it

Funny how we look, how we realise

There's a freedom in your eyes
How you helped me with your light
How you helped me with your light

I believe this world surrounds us
From the first day to the last
We experience, we live together
Lost in one embrace
We will love forever, this eternity
For in this love I'm alive, I'm alive

I believe that all the fear you've had
Can gently fly away
We experience, we hope together
Lost in one embrace
We will love forever, this eternity
For in this love I'm alive, I'm alive
