I'm the man that you tried to fool,
The one you tried to kid.
You don't know all the lies you told,
Don't believe a word you said.
You know don't know who you are,
Who you wanna be.
You're just trying to be someone,
Who means something to me?

What I done you've done before
And what I know you know for sure.
You've seen it all and you've done it all.
You've hit the heights but without the fall.
No, I don't wanna be your friend.
Wooa, when you're telling me lies again.

You never pleased with the hand your dealt,
The truth is plain to see.
The time has come to walk the line,
It's time to follow me.
You don't know who you are,
Or who you wanna be.

What I done you've done before
And what I know you know for sure
You've seen it all and you've done it all
You've hit the heights but without the fall
No, I don't wanna be your friend
Wooa, when you're telling me lies again

What I done you've done before
And what I know you know for sure
You've seen it all and you've done it all
You've hit the heights but without the fall

Your living the truth and the stories you've told,
The sex and the drugs and the rock and roll.
The world exists outside your head,
The women you fucked, and the lies you've said.
No, I don't wanna be your friend
Wooa, when you're telling me lies again.
