Remember the time we raced along the coast?
Too bad you can't hold it in your hand
So tight, all too soon it slips away
Do you remember that day?

Could you ever know?
If only these words meant more
Could you ever see?

This past six years, changing faces in our lives
If you could only see what you're meant
To me, there at all the right times
My shoulder to cry on

Could you ever know?
If only these words meant more
Could you ever see?

Could you ever know?
If only these words meant more
Could you ever see?

Remember me
Remember me, I'll be there
Remember me
Remember me, I'll be there

Remember me
Remember me, I'll be there
Remember me
Remember me, I'll be there
