Life

Could be all you want
If that's what you want
Just dare to let go and take the time

Time

Could give all you want
If that's what you want
Just dare to let go and come back to life

Life

With all its little things
That make your heart sing
They're not all forgotten I know

I know you're sick of waiting for a
Miracle to change it for ya
Looking only out you're missing
The miracle that always has been in you

I still believe in something good
How I just wish you also could
You could believe in something good

Time

Until it's your time
You'll always have time
This moment is not all of your life

Life

It could be all you want
If that's what you want
You can just let go for sure, I know

I still believe in something good
How I just wish you also could
You could believe in something good
