What's done is done and I know, I'm dwelling just as much since
Everything recycled itself, and turned to plastic like you
Too much to forget honey, to forgives another story
I'm out to live my life through, while you watch the clock to pass time

Life's too short to waste.
And the time we spend is remembered
All we have is time
And there's never time to waste trying not to breath

Every night's a night to dream of, the future you want to have
Jealousy's a form of anger, but anger's not the motive
Aggression is the right key, to a dream I feel inside me
This film is everlasting, take a step to keep it rolling

Life's too short to waste.
And the time we spend is remembered
All we have is time
And there's never time to waste.

I hear you breathing, lying next to me
It's hard to breathe, when I'm in your mouth (Life just goes so slow)
when I'm in your mouth
(Time means nothing)
Life's too short to waste
And there's never time to waste

Life's too short to waste.
And the time we spends remembered
All we have is time
And there's never time to waste trying not to breathe
