

Constantines, The "Life or Death"

Visit "Life or Death" on MotoLyrics.com

I keep a lighter in my pocket since the fall of 2005
I was there waiting on a revelation
I was lucky to get out alive
I was looking for a name for a place to begin again
Was I a man dreaming of a drug or a drug dreaming of a man

Life or death

Transmissions from the liberation front Broken English on invisible wires
So far gone I didn't cast a shadow I believed I was born a liar
I was looking for a name for a place to begin again I was a man losing his voice for words misused and things unsaid

Life or death

Hard won the sweet and aimless morning
The second son who learned to speak by counting is moving on well free of understanding

I was lucky to get out alive

Visit Constantines, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.