Oh, love can be a shower of stones
Oh, love can be a shower of stones

You said "I've never felt this far from home
I've never felt this good before
I watched as the sky was falling
I watched as the sun explodes
It was like nothing I had ever seen before"

Oh, love can be a shower of stones
Oh, love can be a shower of stones

You said "I've forgotten all my other names everything I thought I knew before
And all the tallest mountains have fallen into the ocean
Now there's nothing that I've ever seen before"

Oh, love can be a shower of stones
Oh, love can be a shower of stones

And after such love, where go?
Stripped to the bone
Shower of stones
