And you're so damn scared
And you don't know what to do
So You sit all alone
In this cold, empty room
And you're waiting for someone new
And I'll be praying for someone to save you
Cuz you mean everything to me
And I am falling on my knees
And begging please don't go
Because you're everything I need
And you're so beautiful to me
So baby, please come home tonight
And you've been so disappointed
In everything as of late
That you've given up hope on me
Yeah, you've given up hope on me
And you're hating everything
But I'll be waiting patiently
Cuz you mean everything to me
And I am falling on my knees
And begging please don't go
Because you're everything I need
And you're so beautiful to me
So baby, please come home tonight
