I can catch any star in the palm of my hands for you
I can track down the rarest of flower in blooming for you I can tear down the world and rebuild again just for you but I can't get you back No, I can't get you back

I keep breaking the walls that will keep me away from you but the closer I get means the further away you move and I am left with illusions I made to not miss you 'cause I can't get you back
No, I can't get you back

Uhhhm

Wake me up 'cause I am dreaming a nightmare that feels so true Every tick of the clock is a stub in the heart from you I 've been bruised, I 've been cut, I 've been buried alive by you
' cause I wanted you back so bad
I dug my own grave for you,
Made a fool of my self even after you found someone new 'cause I wanted you back I wanted to back
I wanted you back
and I can't have you back
I wanted you back
and I can't have you back I can't have you back no more....
