

Slobberbone

"Springfield, IL"

Visit "Springfield, IL" on MotoLyrics.com

Springfield, Illinois
I left you standing by the state house stairs
A little bit annoyed, but completely unaware
Of anything you said
To give me pause as to what goes on inside your head
Was there something I should have seen?
What exactly did you mean?

And you would never be the one to say
"Nothing's worth the work it takes to stay
And it's all a mess
It's stupidity."

Springfield, Illinois
We left you standing by the state house stairs
A little bit annoyed, but completely unaware

And we had never been the ones to say
"Nothing's worth the work it takes to stay
And it's all a mess
Yeah, it's stupidity."
And we had never been the ones to say
"Nothing's worth not imply walking away from this uselessness
Yeah, don't kid yourself."

'Cause I had always been the one to say
"Nothing's worth the work it takes to stay
And it's all a mess
Yeah, it's stupidity."
And I had always been the one to say
"Nothing's worth not simply walking away from this uselessness
"Yeah, don't fool yourself."

Springfield, Illinois
You left me standing by the state house stairs
A little still annoyed, but completely unaware

