

Sloppy Seconds "Anxiety Is Setting In"

Visit "Anxiety Is Setting In" on MotoLyrics.com

It was cold and dark I seemed very
Out of place. I felt my legs get weak
And the alls start to shake but anxiety
Is setting in. The leaves were growing hands
Pulling my skin and that's when I put my hands
Around the only thing that made sense

We're on our own so here's the news we've been
Set up and I caught a glimpse of what's to come
I guess thats we should have known

We're on our own so here's the news we've been
Set up and I caught a glimpse of what's to come
I guess thats we should have known

It's so unjust it seems that I can't see
What you see and I found the cancer still Alive. It's coursing through our veins.
We'll never be the same and that's why

I put my hands
Around the only thing that made sense

We're on our own so here's the news we've been
Set up and I caught a glimpse of what's to come
I guess thats we should have known

We're on our own so here's the news we've been
Set up and I caught a glimpse of what's to come
I guess thats we should have known [x3]
I guess that we're on our own [x2]

We're on our own so here's the news we've been
Set up and I caught a glimpse of what's to come
I guess thats we should have known
We're on our own [x2]

They never wanted, wanted us to know

Visit Sloppy Seconds page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

