[...You...] tell me I'm lost and I don't seem too sure what to do

[...You...] tell me I'm lost and I don't seem too sure what to do

There's a fire in my head and I'm blinded by bullets

There's a fire in my head and I'm blinded by bullets

Dancing to nowhere, I'm losing my head and I'm

Dancing to nowhere, I'm losing my head and I'm

And the man at the bar that [...night...] recall that he needed me

And the man at the bar that [...night...] recall that he needed me

Sister, I've lost all the feeling

I'm lost and I'm sold

I lay down beside you

Sister, I'm blinded

It's only my eyes

I've sold them before

The man said the drinking is handled [...by pouring it right...]

The man said the drinking is handled [...by pouring it right...]

And It seemed much the same when he pointed the gun at his head

And It seemed much the same when he pointed the gun at his head

[...Who'd need me then...]

In raise of much noise and I checked out the time, yeah

Let all my face down [...in the words...] of a stranger

Sister, I've lost all the feeling

I'm lost and I'm sold

I lay down beside you

Sister, I'm blinded

It's only my eyes

I've sold them before
