When gray meets light
It creates new colors
That stay lost inside
Till they find each other

The world that you've never seen before
Starts moving in slow motion

Am I living now out loud
'Cause I can't hide me from you
And I'm not afraid somehow
To let you see right through me
Wait, I must be dreaming wide awake

This world's so real
Like a kaleidoscope made clear
To touch, to feel
What if we made it disappear

With just a tangle, you might change
I'd rather breathe this moment

Am I living now out loud
'Cause I can't hide me from you
And I'm not afraid somehow
To let you see right through me
Wait, I must be dreaming wide awake

Am I living now out loud
'Cause I can't hide me from you
And I'm not afraid somehow
To let you see right through me
No

Am I living now out loud
'Cause I can't hide me from you
And I'm not afraid somehow

To let you see right through me
I must be dreaming wide awake
I must be dreaming
I must be dreaming wide awake
