Jane, she knows she has to stay
Face the world all alone
The square, it is empty today
All the birds, they have flown

They've gone south for the winter
She's got nowhere to go
Talks but nobody hears her
When all the birds have flown

Back for the bread and pavement
Lonely lustered unknown
Now there's nothing left for her
All the birds, they have flown

They've gone south for the winter
She's got nowhere to go
Talks but nobody hears her
When all the birds have flown

Jane, she knows she has to stay
Face the world all alone
The square, it is empty today
All the birds, they have flown

They've gone south for the winter
She's got nowhere to go
Talks but nobody hears her
When all the birds have flown
When all the birds have flown
When all the birds have flown
