Read my Horoscope and I hear that now it's time to fly
From all my old life
And my birth chart says this year
Everything will become clear
Man I hope that's right
Oh and time ain't never been an easy thing for me
It just flows and flows
I don't feel it though
And if I can't catch it will I be left scratching my poor head alone
In the over grow

Time she ebbs and flows away
Oh the wheel turns slowly round again
Oh no no

So if like me you can't recall most of what has gone before

And you were left to ponder

As the memories pull away

It's the sentiment that stays

Stays with you longer

And I don't mean to regress I just care less and less about the things that I

That I used to

Oh if this is progress I guess that I can accept that it might just be kinda useful

Time she ebbs and flows away
Oh the wheel turns slowly round again
You know time she ebbs and flows away
Oh the wheel turns slowly round again
Round again
Around again he he

And in the end the ebb and flow hollows out the things we know

And it leaves us lighter
And when the stars take their place
They align to take the shape of something brighter

Time she ebbs and flows away
Oh the wheel turns slowly round again
You know
You know time she ebbs and flows away
Oh the wheel turns slowly round again
HOLIDAYS

Nothing can compare to your first love The things you do You need them They need you Can you can't be apart It hurts too hard

All holidays I lay awake
Wishing I could get myself back home
And every night I'd dream the same
Dreaming of you lying there alone

I came down from the mountain
With a heart stuffed full of longing
To be near him
To be with him
And we made a pact I will not go back
Some kinds of love ain't built to last
Nothing could be sadder than the truth
Still I can say I miss the days
When I just could not be away from you
From you

Oh my my I'm traveling light again
Again
I said oh my my I'm traveling light again
Again
Oh I said oh my my I'm traveling light again
Again again again ha!

Sometimes I think of what we had With the stars in our eyes And our hearts in our hands Ut it ain't no good just longing for the past You get only one heart but it's built to last

On holidays I'd lay awake
I was wishing I could get back home to you
And every night oh I'd dream the same
Dreaming of you lying there alone
Alone alone
