"Shine"

Blinded by cars, we are struck dumb left reeling Jaded by the open sky did we stop feeling

We could be stones, but we break
And Hearts explode
We are stars trapped inside
Skin and Bone

Rain drops and sunshine
Planets in Puddles at my feet
And we're Wading through, galaxies of dreams,
That might just come true

We could be stones, but we break
souls explode
We are stars trapped inside
Skin and Bone

We Shine, through it all like tiny golden storms

We shine, spite it all

Like The first frost of winter
We shine - spite it all
In spite of it all.
