Ohhh... we'll build the brightest cities
You can see from outer space, but we'll know there's nothing brighter Than a peaceful man's face. We'll know that everyone's related in some Kind of way, And like family we'll love without understanding or doubt.
We'll plant a seed and watch it sprout, And we'll drive these warlords Out. Well... the answers still blowing in the wind despite all the efforts Of politicians. But no breeze will ever loosen our grip, we'll rise our fists
With a grin! 'Cause who wouldn't die for their best friend? We'll wipe The sweat from our brow, And we'll drive these warlords out.
I am constantly trying not to disappear into the cracks in the sidewalks
Of the east village, And in holding my own it's become quite clear That redemption is not in the atmosphere. It's in holding a hand and Screaming a cheer, At the top of our lungs so everyone can hear...
Even if we just ease one person's fear. We are not meant to be alone.
That's why you and me are here right now, And we'll drive these Warlords out. I am feeling blue like I often do, It's not like I wanna Be with just anyone right now, Cause I wanna be with you! So please Be the girl that I love tonight. We'll sing along to a thousand old Folk songs... Yeah we'll sing along to our favorite pop-punk songs!
And we'll wipe the sweat from our brow,
And we'll drive these warlords out.
