In the shadow of my days
When comfort is so far away
And hope is on the cross

I lift mine eyes and wholly gaze
Upon the saviors perfect face
What mercy love hath brought
My every hope and fear
Is resting here
With thee

Chasing through a selfish maze
Of reckless and uncertain days
Our God pursues each heart

And tests even the purest thought
For hope not built upon his rock
What grace his love imparts
My every hope and fear
Is captured here

Take what is mine
I couldn't change the smallest part of me
Make me wholly thine
Love so divine
Saves every part of me
All of me

My one hope in thee remains
Thy spirit everyday sustains
Oh, risen lamb of God

I lift my voice to sing thy praise
With all the saints redeemed by grace
What mercy love hath bought
My every hope and fear
Is gathered here

Take what is mine
I couldn't change the smallest part of me
Make me wholly thine
Love so divine

Saves every part of me
Save me

When at the final trumpet cry
Iâ€™m caught up to my Saviors side
What joy our hearts shall find

And on that day of glory I
Will recognize my hearts desire

My God, how great thou art
My every hope and fear is raptured here

Take what is mine
I couldnâ€™t change the smallest part of me
Make me wholly thine
Love so divine
Saves all of me

I lift my voice to sing thy praise
With all thy saints redeemed by grace
With all my heart with all my mind
With everything I am you know
