Empty cup that's always full
Empty soul to cleanse my world
I've been waiting all my life
For an empty cause to force my pride

To run against the grains of time
To ride the moment, you know is mine
I'm rotting inside and no one can save me
I know it, I know..Stop feeding me lies

There's a breeze, picks up at night..
Who takes my breath into the sky
Effect the world and kill myself
Purpose served a judgement pill

You feed me lies...
To run against the grains of time
To ride the moment you know is mine
I'm rotting inside and no one can save me
And not yet, I know..stop feeding me lies
You feed me lies
Lies

You win somehow
You bring me down
You win somehow
You bring me down

To run against the grains of time
To ride the moment you know is mine
I'm rotting inside and no one can save me
And not yet, I know..stop feeding me lies
