Be all in dulled
Love isn't worth much
There is too much other stuff to do
We gave good luck charms and broke each other's arms
But now I'm sick and I'm sick and tired of you

It feels good
To me good

We saw good movies
Drink so much coffee
That's why I think my face is turning blue
And maybe next time I'll see those warning signs
And then I'll know much better what to do
Oh I don't think it's all that fair that I haven't had the guts to plainly say this Words seem faded every time you're near me
See your love is much like instant brain damage

It feels good
To me good

Your love is like brain damage
Brain damage!

Be all in dulled
Love isn't worth much
There is too much other stuff to do
I Think I had it
You're such a habit
I'm breaking all my habits over you
Lately I've been thinking things aren't over till they're out
With idle thoughts and useless conversation
Makes me wonder what we ever talked about

It feels goods
To me good

Your love is like brain damage
Brain damageâ€¦

Its time to talk
Now I can take a walk
Soâ€¦
Your love is like brain damage
