This isn't a question of faith
Quit running around here without any answers
You're leaving it all up to fate
I'm doing the best to avoid this disaster

Falling faster

You came here believing in fables
Buying the lies from the cradle
Running with sheep in the stable
I am not like you

I'm looking around at this place
And all that I'm seeing, a life of repeating
A game that we all love to play
I'm counting the hours till my next feeding

Falling Faster

You came here believing in fables
Buying the lies from the cradle
Running with sheep in the stable
I am not like you
