Stand there with your ball and chain
Bitch about what you created
Woke up in the masquerade
You've already been paid and made it

Don't pretend to know what it's like
To feel the things that we must live through
You will see with your dyin' eyes
There's only one thing I will ask of you

Can you take this life, can you make it right?
Do you have the words to say to make it? All go away
You act so wise and so refined
You can keep your lies 'cause I'm never gonna go your way

Promises of a better life
What's wrong with the one I'm leadin'?
Everyone has a different fight
A different wound that keeps them bleedin'

What's wrong with a little fun?
Everybody needs to find their something
This is how your gonna treat your son
Fuck 'em up and give them nothing

Can you take this life, can you make it right?
Do you have the words to say to make it? All go away
Can you take this life, can you make it right?
Do you have the words to say to make it? All go away
You act so wise and so refined
Keep your bullshit lies 'cause I'm never gonna go your way
Never gonna go your way

Everybody needs to find their own way through life
Everybody needs to find their own way
Everybody needs to find their own way through life
Everybody needs to find their own way

Can you take this life, can you make it right?
Do you have the words to say to make it? All go away

Can you take this life, can you make it right?
Do you have the words to say to make it? All go away
You act so wise and so refined
Keep your bullshit lies lies 'cause I'm never gonna go your way

Never gonna go your way
Never gonna go your way
Never gonna go your way
