

Danger Harvey

"Jack The Lion"

Visit "Jack The Lion" on MotoLyrics.com rake up all the leaves in pleasant valley it's the last day of my visit upstate new york to pay respects to the old man he's still got his sense of humor but his body fails him he's surrounded by loved ones but that only goes so far and does he know where he is?

i doubt it.
jack the lion roaring his last
like a vision sent from the past bedside crying holding his hands strong hands
finally get a moment alone with the old man he's having trouble breathing and he's not the only one he wonders where time goes and why we haven't spoken for so long he regrets it he forgets it
and none too soon... because he's closing his eyes and fading we thank you for uniting we thank you for the cause we thank you for the lion we thank you for the claws come see him again

come see him again

come see him again

come see him again

bop bop bop

jack the lion roaring his last

like a vision sent from the past

bedside, crying, holding his hands

strong hands

Visit Danger Harvey page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.