Watch the world with blood , eyes,
Maybe then I'll see what you see,
Cool embrace that sucks you dry
Living you as sick and empty.
Inner thoughts consume your life,
Twisting the odds that leave you blind
So much pain distorts your mind
.. that I see you empty.

Chorus:

It's so much more than who you are,
I could see the blood fall through your heart,
Before you tear your life apart,
Maybe you will see what I see.
It's so much more to what it seems,
All the wounded hearts and broken dreams,
It's so much more than who you are
Before you can see what I see.

All this time has passed you bye,
Keeping you from all it could be,
Kinda sad to watch you die,
You're heading for,
I can hear you in your cry,
As you scream your last goodbye,
What you ..
Boy, you can see what I see.

Chorus:

It's so much more than who you are,
I could see the blood fall through your heart,
Before you tear your life apart,
Maybe you will see what I see.
It's so much more to what it seems,
All the wounded hearts and broken dreams,
It's so much more than who you are
Before you can see what I see.

Close your eyes and count to,
Close your eyes and count to,
Close your eyes and count to three!
