

They Say Fall

"Tear You Apart"

(We are poised, I think there's gonna' be blood so make some noise),
Sing with me louder and higher.
(This is our call, wake from this slumber, watch them stumble, watch them fall),
A bloated truth, feeding from the lies they sold to you.

Now sing, this time we'll do things right,
Just sing, we'll teach you how to save your life,
We'll sing, open your eyes and listen for,
A truth that will tear you apart.

(Their words, their lies, they make us stagger, they show us hate),
We return them a blade.
(To the heart we call, we don't deserve this),
Twisted feelings of disgust that we share for you.

Now sing, this time we'll do things right,
Just sing, we'll teach you how to save your life,
We'll sing, open your eyes and listen for,
A truth that will tear you apart.

Now sing, this time we'll do things right,
Just sing, we'll teach you how to save your life,
We'll sing, open your eyes and listen for,
A truth that will tear you apart.

Now sing, this time we'll do things right,
Just sing, we'll teach you how to save your life,
We'll sing, open your eyes and listen for,
A truth that will tear you apart.
