Bring it back!
And I would do anything for a letter from you

I never thought things would go this way
What should I say
Never thought they would pull my name
What should I say?
I'll find a way to write you back someday
What should I say
Never thought they would pull my name
What should I say?

Say what you know
Bottle it up and give me what you say
What do you need from me?

Call my name without my face, it means nothing to you
You don't know what I do, but you don't really care
This is nothing like home
And I don't feel right
Take me away

Bring on the war!

I never thought things would go this way
What should I say
Never thought they would pull my name
What should I say?
I'll find a way to write you back someday
What should I say
Never thought they would pull my name
What should I say?

You know what you have done
Don't try to lie
You sent me back where I came from

The lights don't look so bad from here
With you name strapped to my chest
Where are we?
