Everything is quiet
Since you're not around
And I live in the numbness now
In the background
I do the things we did before
I walk Haight street to the store
And they say where's that crazy girl
You don't get drunk on red wine
And fight no more
'Cause I don't see you anymore
Since the hospital
But the plans I make still have you in them
Then you come swimming into view
And I'm hanging on your words like I always used to do
The words they use so lightly
I only feel for you
I only know this 'cause I am
Way back down
In the background
Words they come and memories all repeat
I lift your head while
They change the hospital sheets
I would never lie to you
No, I would never lie to you
I felt you long after we were through
And the plans I make still have you in them
'Cause you come swimming into view
And I'm hanging on your words like I always used to do
The words they use so lightly
I only feel for you
I only know this 'cause I am
Way back down
In the background
