I never thought that this would end
I shout out loud this wasn't meant
We went too far up to the wall
This could never worked at all
Thought of you most of my time
But after all that choice was mine
But you can't make up for what you've done
You'll be sorry when I'm gone

I would have chosen someone else
If I knew what I know now
But you were so easy and so fine
I couldn't wait to get inside
Your world was crazy with no shame
You can play your stupid games
You played my head and my soul
With no meaning and no goal

I never wanted to be alone
So I spend hours on the phone
For you I left all my friends
I can't go back to them again
You worked me good I'll give you that
You did things you might regret
But you can't make up for what you've done
You'll be sorry when I'm gone

I would have chosen someone else
If I knew what I know now
But you were so easy and so fine
I couldn't wait to get inside
Your world was crazy with no shame
You can play your stupid games
You played my head and my soul
With no meaning and no goal

I would have chosen someone else
If I knew what I know now
But you were so easy and so fine
I couldn't wait to get inside
Now I know you and what you do

And I will never be fooled
You'll regret it but we're done
You might be sorry when I'm gone
