Exhausted
Torn apart by time

So get far away
Retreat to the fortress
Escape your distress
Far away
Sheltered from what they say
Not struggling through one more day

This can't be the end to your show!

This isn't what He wants you to do, I know
I felt it too
The weight is hard to bare, I know
But don't you let go
But angels are waiting, angels are waiting for me to come home

So get far away
Retreat to the fortress
Escape my distress
Far away
Sheltered from what they all say
This is my last day

This is my last day
I'll lay to rest through the leaves on the cold ground
And to the heavens I'll guide my soul

What happened when the lights went out and your heart kept beating long Enough for you to understand that none of this is real!

If you ever find the stairway please let me know
Oh, I hope you are right
