"Two Planets"

I know I haven't been
A boy to let you in
My heart just needs more time
To try the beat again
I don't want this to be
The end of you and me
I still need you, although
I'm getting older

Remember when things were different
We could talk without resistance
You were there to hear me out
I'm sorry about all the things I've said
I swear to you I've never meant
To make you cry, why oh why

The day these planets realign
The sun will start to shine
And bring our lives back
We can travel to the stars
From Venus back to Mars
'Cause we're two planets, uh huh

We need another chance
To try to bring balance
'Cause our relationship
Has been hit-or-miss
I know where you come from
'Cause I've been there too
We come from the same star
Shining on us

Now that things are different
We can talk without resistance
And we're there to work things out
We're laughing at the things we've said
I'm hoping this will never end
Up so high, that's where we fly

The day these planets realigned
The sun started to shine

And brought our lives back
We have traveled to the stars
From Venus back to Mars
'Cause we're two planets

We're flying through the same space
We're moving at a different pace
We will learn from our mistakes
And we'll do what it takes to bring our lives back
We're flying through the same space
We're moving at a different pace
We will learn from our mistakes
And we'll do what it takes to bring our lives back

We're flying through the same space
We're moving at a different pace
We will learn from our mistakes
And we'll do what it takes to bring our lives back

Uh huh, yeah, 'cause we're two planets
Uh huh, yeah, 'cause we're two planets
Uh huh, oh, 'cause we're two planets
Oh, yeah, 'cause we're two planets
Uh huh, oh, 'cause we're two planets
Oh, yeah, 'cause we're two planets
